13 dining options for Easter brunch across Palm Beach County

By Post Features Staff

You could host Easter Sunday brunch at your house, but why would you want to when you could treat yourself and the family and to a delicious and lavish brunch this year?

Put on your Sunday best and prepare to make reservations at these top restaurants all over Palm Beach County. Your tastebuds will thank you.

1000 NORTH, Jupiter

This gorgeous spot overlooking the Jupiter Lighthouse and Inlet is offering three different brunch options: The Rosé Brunch at $68, the Champagne Brunch for $98, or the nonalcoholic brunch for $42. (All prices are per person).

Bringing the kids? Even better. Children ages 5 to 12 eat for $24 while kids age 4 and under eat for free. Not to mention there's the chance to meet the Easter Bunny while you dine waterfront.

Details: Brunch goes from 10:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. To make a reservation, call 561-570-1000

1000 NORTH: 1000 North U.S. Highway 1, Jupiter

THE COOPER, Palm Beach Gardens

Here's a brunch that encourages creativity. The Cooper will have a station dedicated to egg decorating for the little ones. The grown-ups can look forward to $15 bottomless Bloody Marys and mimosas. On top of that, you'll find other reasonably priced classic brunch dishes like Eggs Benedict accompanied with Nueske's Canadian bacon, an English muffin, a tossed green salad and a side of fresh fruit, all for $14.

Details: 10:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. To make a reservation call (561) 622-0032.

The Cooper: 4610 PGA Blvd. (at PGA Commons), Palm Beach Gardens

AVOCADO GRILL, Palm Beach Gardens (and West Palm Beach)

As if stuffed leg of lamb and prime rib carving stations weren't enticing enough, the restaurant's Palm Beach Gardens location will open up a Bloody Mary bar to accompany its tasty menu. Those specials will include a crab Benedict from their award-winning chef/owner, Julien Gremaud.

Is the drive north too out of the way? Worry not. You can find the same specials and tasty items, sans the carving station, at Avocado Grill's downtown West Palm location.

Details: To make a reservation for the Palm Beach Gardens location, call 561-766-2430; for West Palm Beach, call 561-623-0822.
